The house stands a Herbert Weaves and Herbert F the United States. The house stands a few miles from Surry Courthouse, is of brick, was built about 1752, and is in fair condition. It is forty-eight feet front, with a depth of twenty-four feet. The basement is one large room, with fieplaces. On the floor above are the living rooms, and above these a dornitory. The windows are exceedingly small. The historic old house, with the land attached, is owned and occupied by negroes.

Herbert Weaves and Herbert Fisher, young men, while crosisng Washington Street at the corner of Sycamore yesterday, were struck by an automobile driven by a little girl. They were knocked under the car, and, clinging to the radiator, were dragged several yards before it was stopped. They fortunately escaped serious injury, suffering only a few bruises and seratches.
